Definitions

1. Personal Electronic Communication Device (PECD): Any wireless electronic communication device that provides for voice, text, or video communication between two or more parties. This includes, but is not limited to, mobile or cellular phones, tablets, computers, watches, wireless headphones or earbuds, text messaging devices, or personal digital assistants. All PECDs must be turned off and securely stored away from the student's person in an inaccessible location during the entire school day. Specific storage procedures will be established at each building level.

Option Not to Bring Devices

Students may choose not to bring PECDs to school by leaving them at a house or in a vehicle (including if the vehicle is parked on school premises).

Limited Exceptions for Use

A student may use a PECD during the School Day only if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

Approved in writing by a licensed physician as a medical necessity to support the student's health or well-being.
2. Device use is an Intervention of Last Resort.

All exceptions require prior written approval from the building principal (or designee) and must be documented.

Off-Premises Learning Experiences

This policy does not apply to travel to or from learning experiences located off school premises, including postsecondary courses, career technical education, work-based learning programs, or other alternative educational opportunities.

School-Sponsored Activities Outside the School Day

The Board may adopt event specific rules and/or additional rules limiting or prohibiting PECD use during school-sponsored activities or events that occur outside the regular school day.

Enforcement and Discipline

- Building administrators shall develop clear enforcement procedures and a progressive disciplinary matrix for violations.
- Possible consequences include confiscation of the device (returned to the student or parent at the end of the day or per procedure), warnings, detention, suspension, or other disciplinary actions consistent with the district's student conduct policies.
